

ACTRESS READY TO HUG THEM ALL

Lucille LaVerne Just That Glad to Open Summer Stock at Academy of Music.

TO PUT ON NEWSPAPER PLAY

"The Fourth Estate" Selected as Opening Attraction on May 6.

Lucille LaVerne, heading a company of her own, will be the leading woman in stock at the Academy, beginning Monday, May 6. It had been planned to begin the engagement next Monday, but owing to previous bookings the Academy could not be secured until the later date.

However, Miss LaVerne, who is by no means a stranger in Richmond, is no idler, and rather than wait even for a minute, she determined to put on her opening performance at the Bijou next Monday night. For the first week Miss LaVerne has chosen a play of her own making, "Anne Boyd," in which she has scored a distinct success under the Schubert management.

Standing on the stage of the Academy yesterday afternoon, surrounded by her company, in the first throes of rehearsal, Miss LaVerne told something of her plans. "You see," she said, "I just had to come back to Richmond. One never knows what it is that attracts one or holds one to a certain place. On the road the impressions one gets are so kaleidoscopic, the changes so rapid, the opportunities for studying the people and local conditions so few, that the average actor rarely knows what city he is in unless something out of the ordinary happens to bring it home to him."

Glad to meet here. "To me Richmond has meant so much. I have known and still know so many very dear people here, have met with so much success here and have had my poor efforts so highly praised that by adoption at least I feel as if Richmond is my home, and it will be, if you folks are good enough to adopt me. When I was here with Larry Giffen— you know Mr. Giffen, of course—I first began to know all of those delightful people, and I have never spent a more pleasant summer anywhere. It was then that I made up my mind that if I ever got the chance I was coming back with a company of my own."

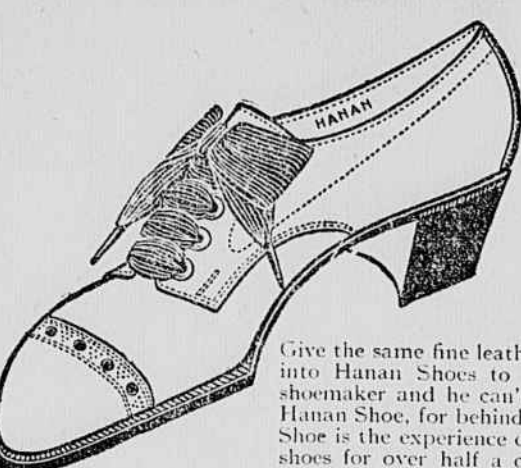

"When Mr. Wells suggested a stock engagement for the Academy it nearly took my breath away. Here was given me, without effort, an opportunity to do something toward which I had been striving on for a number of years. Without undue haste I didn't want even Mr. Wells to know how anxious I was to come—I agreed, and there, waving her hands and pointing out the members of the company, "are what I brought with me. We are now rehearsing my play, 'Anne Boyd,' which I dramatized from the book of the same name. We will produce this play at the Bijou next week, after which we will come back here to the Academy, which will be our home for the summer."

"After 'Anne Boyd' I have determined to give the people of Richmond a chance to witness the Patterson drama of newspaper life, 'The Fourth Estate.' You must know that play, though I understand it has never been to Richmond. It's all about the newspaper game, its temptations, its hurry and scramble after the news, and a real, sure-enough newspaper is printed on the stage while the public looks on and sees the wheels go around."

Virginia Girl in Company. "For the third week I haven't quite decided. However, it is not going to be hard, for I have my choice of all the best and highest priced royalty plays on the market. Personally I think it well to offer serious plays while the weather is yet cool, and as it grows warmer to put on the warm weather variety of offerings, such as 'Mrs. Temple's Telegram' and other light comedies and farces."

"Just at this moment I am hardly in

DR. JAS. P. SMITH MADE MODERATOR

Spring Meeting of East Hanover Presbytery in Session at Fredericksburg.

Fredericksburg, Va., April 22.—East Hanover Presbytery began its spring meeting in the Presbyterian Church in this city to-night. In the absence of the moderator, Rev. Russell Cecil, D. D., Rev. J. Y. Fair, D. D., pastor of the Westminster Church, in Richmond, presided and preached the opening sermon. He took as his text Exodus 11: 2, "And behold the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed." The subject was the destructibility of the church of God, and he presented this truth in the eloquent style for which he is so well known.

Rev. James Power Smith, D. D., of Richmond, on the motion of Rev. F. T. McQueen, D. D., was elected moderator of the presbytery. Dr. Smith was for many years the pastor of the church in which this meeting is being held, and he is still greatly beloved by the people of this city, as well as by his old congregation.

Rev. J. K. Kellogg and Rev. F. W. Phillips, both of Richmond, were elected assistants to the stated clerk of the presbytery, which office is held by Rev. William S. Campbell. The session of the presbytery was closed by the celebration of the Lord's Supper. This was conducted by Dr. Smith and Fair. In addition to those already mentioned, there are present from Richmond, Rev. J. Calvin Stewart, D. D., Rev. D. Clay Little, D. D., Rev. A. B. Phillips, Rev. John F. Ellis, Rev. R. B. Segelston, Rev. T. R. English, D. D., Rev. T. H. Rice, D. D., Rev. M. B. Forster, D. K. Kellogg, W. S. Rhoads, P. K. Aennie, J. S. Hays, D. D., Talley, H. P. Taylor, Jr., and E. H. Lea.

To-morrow night the presbytery will be given a reception by the church in the buildings of the Fredericksburg College. Judge John T. Goelick, of the Corporation Court of Fredericksburg, who has been sick for several weeks, has been taken to Dr. Smith's sanatorium, at Fredericksburg, to take a course of treatment.

J. F. Clarke, of Essex county, had two valuable horses killed by lightning during a storm recently. Rappahannock Episcopal Convocation will be held at Kilmarnock, in Lancaster county, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Rev. H. Barber, D. D., and Rev. R. H. Hyde, D. D., of this city, will attend. The stockholders of the Prince William Horsemen's Association have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: M. Hazen, president; William E. Buckley, John W. Prescott, James Birkett, M. T. DePaun, John U. Detrick, vice-presidents; James E. Nelson, secretary; G. Raymond Ratcliffe, treasurer.

growing business which he abandoned in 1891 to enlist in the Confederate army. He was again after war. As soon as the south began to recuperate from the stagnation which followed the war, Dr. Patterson again took up the business of tobacco, manufacturing with James Thomas, Jr., and T. C. Williams, under the firm name of R. A. Patterson & Co. It was his boast that he was a self-made man, and circumstances have borne out his boast. He always took interest in public affairs, serving for years as a supervisor of Henrico county, and taking a prominent part in the development of the western end of the city. It was mainly through his efforts that the street railway was finally extended to Westhampton. He worked wonders during his term on the State Penitentiary board, and in 1894, on the occasion of the Virginia's resources. For years after the war he administered medical help to his neighbors without pecuniary recompense, a kindness which won for him the affection of his people.

Arrested for Molestation. Eddie Guthrie, eighteen years old, was arrested yesterday by Detective Roberts and Wiley and Kellam on the charge of stealing a bicycle from A. P. Gregory.
